SUPREME COURT TO DECIDE TWO MAJOR DISPUTES

Rights of States to Fix Pay for Working Women Put in Jeopardy

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN

Perplexing Problem Put for Highest Judges

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12—(UP)—The Supreme Court today rejected the plea of three industrial states that it reconsider its ruling that they have no right to regulate wages of women in industry and, in effect, reaffirmed its sharply criticized opinion of last spring.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (UP)—The Supreme Court, meeting at noon for the first decision day of this session, is expected to rule on two cases involving the right of states to regulate the wages of women in industry.

The decisions may result in elimination of the "no man's land" between state and federal powers created by the decision last June condemning by five to four New York state's law prescribes minimum wages.

Illinois and Massachusetts have joined New York in asking a rehearing on grounds that the court proceeded on a mistaken supposition when it decided its case last spring. The court may decide whether to grant a rehearing.

May Hear Appeal

The court also is expected to decide whether to hear an appeal from the Washington State Supreme Court upholding that state's minimum wage law.

In the Washington case a chambermaid in a hotel sued her employer.

LOYALISTS FLEE INTO MADRID TO BATTLE REBELS

Insurgent Forces Report They Can See Houses in City's Outskirts

GIBRALTAR, Oct. 12—(UP)—Spanish Loyalists were retreating today before the insurgent Moors and Foreign Legionnaires who hit hard and swiftly against one high-way after another west of Madrid.

Insurgent sources reported an entirely new attack from the mountains of the north in the Rob-regordo-Torrelaguna area, and asserted that from their positions the rebel advance guards could see the first houses in the outskirts of Madrid.

Madrid made its censorship more rigid than ever as regards troop positions and movements but frankly admitted that the situation was serious.

Loyalist miners at Oviedo controlled most of the city, but the rebel garrison remained in possession of the cathedral, a number of fortified buildings and the great military barracks in the northeastern suburbs where they intended to make a last stand.

AL SMITH SEEN AS PRESIDENT OF BIG CORPORATION

NEW YORK, Oct. 12—(UP)—Alfred E. Smith will become president of the Consolidated Edison Co., New York City's largest public utility corporation, soon after the election, Justice Jacob Panken of the Family court said today.

While there was no confirmation from any other sources, Judge Panken insisted he had it "on good authority."

There have been many similar reports since Smith was defeated for the Democratic nomination for president in 1928.

Panken said progressive and reactionary elements were being aligned against each other in the presidential campaign.

"But just wait until you see who is president of the Consolidated Edison Co. after election," he said.

"I venture to say that Al Smith will be president of the Edison Electric company after this election day."

He spoke yesterday at a meeting of the American Labor party.

POLICE, SHERIFF GUARD ROUTE 22 AFTER ROBBERY

Lancaster Budget Company Office Looted at Noon by Two Bandits

LOOT NOT DETERMINED

Pickaway County Officers Called in Search

City police and sheriff's departments were patrolling Route 22, east of Circleville, Monday afternoon following the robbery of The Budget Co., downtown Lancaster loan firm at 12:10 p. m.

Two armed robbers entered the firm and held up E. R. Prather of Chillicothe, president of the company, and Miss Dorothy Fetter, cashier. They rifled the cash drawer and obtained an undetermined amount of money.

Turn Toward Circleville

The men fled when Prather refused to open a safe. He chased them on foot until their car reached Route 22 about two blocks from the loan company offices. They turned on Route 22 toward Circleville.

Both men were described as being stocky and about 35 or 40 years of age. One man wore a grey suit and gray hat. The other described as being red-headed, worse a blue suit. Officers were told the men used a black Chevrolet bearing license AQ585.

The State Bureau of Motor Vehicles at Columbus said the licenses plates were issued to Deborah Wood of Cleveland for a 1932 Graham Paige sedan, but that they had been reported stolen and the owner had applied for new ones.

'AROUND CORNER' SAYS PRESIDENT IN DENVER TALK

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 12—(UP)—President Roosevelt said today that "we are around the corner," and cited an improved economic condition as indicative of decreased government spending and a balanced budget "within a year or two."

Speaking from the state capital, the chief executive painted a rosy word picture of the state of the union and then lashed out at the Republican leadership for its promises to cut federal expenditures to the bone.

"There was an old Roman God named Janus," Mr. Roosevelt said. "He faced both ways. He had two months. I need not explain that parable any further."

Are you willing to turn America over to those who in past years shut their eyes to the problems of this nation?" he asked.

"This administration has shown the way because it had the will to do."

The Buskirks were driving west, and had just started to cross the tracks when Mr. Buskirk, who was driving, saw the train approaching to his left. He swung the car around, striking a bell stand and gate stand. The train hit the left front fender and broke both front wheels off the car.

Neither Mr. Buskirk nor his wife was injured, though the latter complained of a bump on her head.

The freight was not able to stop until it reached the curve north of the crossing. Police reported the crossing warning bell was ringing loudly when Mr. Buskirk started across the tracks.

WALTER BUNN DEAD, TWO OTHERS HURT

Young Man's Neck Broken As He Is Thrown Through Air After Crash South of Tarlton Early Sunday Morning

STRUCTURE FALLS ON TOP OF CAR

Salt Creek at O. S. Mowery Farm Scene of Tragedy; Hundreds View Crushed Auto

Walter Bunn, 22, of Williamsport Rt. 1., was dead today and many other persons were suffering minor injuries after a series of accidents late Saturday and early Sunday in Pickaway county.

Bunn, returning from the festival at Laurelville, was killed when his auto struck the steel bridge over Salt creek, one and one-half miles south of Tarlton on the Laurelville road. He was catapulted from the driver's seat, striking his head on the gravel. Dr. C. E.

Bowers, coroner, declared a broken neck caused his death. The coroner's verdict was "accidental death."

The accident happened about 1:15 a. m. Bunn and Ernest Garrett, 23, of Wayne township, and Carl Wiggins, 19, of Washington township, were riding north in Bunn's Chevrolet roadster. Deputy Sheriff Bob Armstrong, who investigated, said he believed the car reached the bridge before the driver was aware it was so close. The vehicle struck the left side of the structure, and was thrown across the stream waters to the opposite bank of Salt creek. The bridge then fell on top of the car.

Others Bruised, Shocked

How Garrett and Wiggins escaped with minor injuries is a mystery. Both were taken to the office of Dr. C. T. Grattidge, Laurelville for treatment. They were bruised and suffered from shock, but both were reported in normal condition Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Oman Dilley, Wayne Luckhart, and D. M. Bocher, Salt Creek townships residents, were first on the scene of the crash. They found the dead youth lying 20 feet from the car.

The injured youths were carried to the O. C. Mowery residence. The bridge was 75 years old and had been struck several other times. It was condemned by the commissioners nine months ago. Plans have been made for some time for a new structure of cement and steel, but the work has been delayed.

The funeral for Walter Bunn will be Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Union Chapel church, Wayne township, with burial in Green Summit cemetery, Adelphi, by H. E. Defenbaugh and Son.

The youth is survived by his parents, Clifford and Sarah Bunn, and the following brothers and sisters, Arthur, Canton; Mrs. Ruby Cross, Circleville R. F. D.; Ruth, Columbus; George, Mary, and Ellen, at home.

Hundreds of persons visited the Tarlton community Sunday to view the wrecked car with the bridge resting on top of it. The bridge is located on the O. S. Mowery farm. Since the road is in the county system, the county engineer's office faces the task of removing the wreckage. A detour was in effect Sunday.

PENSION CHIEF SCORES RUMOR OF BUDGET CUT

Awards to Remain Same in Ohio, Krinn Says, Despite Sales Tax

LIQUOR MONEY ALLOTTED

Repeal of Levy on Food Not to Affect Aged

T. D. Krinn, county chief of the Division of Aid for the Aged, today took steps to dispell rumors that the proposed repeal on sales tax for food consumption would tend to decrease the monthly average awards being paid to the county's several hundred old age pensioners.

According to word received by the state division rumors have been circulated in various parts of Ohio to the effect that the proposed repeal would cut heavily into the funds earmarked to aid the state's aged persons.

Krinn pointed out that the state division of Aid for the Aged has not received one cent of sales tax money since July 1, 1935.

"For over a year now we haven't received any money for old age assistance from sales tax funds," he said. "All of the funds used in our program have been obtained as the result of the Legislature's appropriation and from profits derived from the state's liquor monopoly."

"We have found funds from these two sources sufficient to meet our needs in the past and should the time present itself when we are faced with a shortage of funds, then we could request the finance director to borrow from the general revenue fund until such time when we could repay the loan from anticipated liquor profits accruing."

Pointing out that the state's average monthly award to the aged was among the highest to be found anywhere in the country, Krinn asserted that from all indications it would be kept at a high level regardless of whether efforts to repeal the sales tax on food meet with success or not.

At the same time, Krinn revealed that his division was working on new budgets for the state's needy aged persons. The new budgets, which will be based on need, are being prepared at present and should be ready to be placed in operation the first of the year.

THEATRES

AT THE CLIFTONA

"THE Great Ziegfeld" has come to the Cliftona theatre as the finest musical drama ever made for the screen.

Not only does it contain musical spectacles of the best quality but, in a story suggested by the life of the one and only Ziegfeld, it presents drama that will draw tears to the eyes of the most blasé theatregoer.

Topping this 5-ring circus of entertainment are found William Powell in the role of Ziegfeld Myrna Loy as Billie Burke and Louise Rainer as Anna Held.

Without contradiction Powell does the finest work of his career as the great glorifier of American beauty. The role of Anna Held emblazons Louise Rainer on the horizon as one of the most sensational stars to greet us from the screen and Myrna Loy as the lovely Billie Burke is at her loveliest.

AT THE GRAND

Only seventy-five days of actual shooting time was consumed in the making of 20th Century's "Under Two Flags". Considering the magnitude of the task, the elapsed time is remarkably short, but most of the credit is due to the workmanlike organization of Director Frank Lloyd.

AT THE CIRCLE

That love-making is in many cases an acquired art is attested to by John Gielgud, London's favorite Romeo, as evidenced by his successful theatrical season in "Romeo and Juliet". He may be seen with the beautiful Madeleine Carroll in some of the season's most charming love scenes in GE's "Secret Agent", current at the Circle theatre.

BORAH ACCUSES HIS PARTY OF "FIGHTING ME"

Idaho Senator to Stand For His Beliefs Despite Fight

EASTERN G. O. P. HIT Promises to "Go After" Foes in Ranks

BOISE, Ida., Oct. 12—(UP)—Sen. William A. Borah, Idaho veteran, accused the Republican party today of "going after me," and promised in the same breath that he is "going after it."

Borah made his charge after a speech before a Union party rally last night where he was pinch hitting for the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith of Louisiana.

"They (the Republicans) say I pay too much attention to foreign relations," Borah said. "National parties would do well to do the same."

Hits Eastern Money

Borah hinted in his speech that his opposition to "eastern financial interests" cost him the Republican presidential nomination.

"I looked the presidential situation over last June — I was a candidate for nomination. If you don't think monopoly is a question, differ with eastern interests. Tramp on their toes and find out."

The veteran senator said the Republicans "accuse me of not being regular."

"Well, what is a regular?" he asked. "A regular is a man with no ideas who waits for someone to tell him what to do. My idea of being regular is in doing what you believe to be right in the interests of the people you represent."

"Let this be understood — I'm telling all parties, Republican, Democratic, Union — I'm going to advocate the things I believe in whether they cross party lines or not."

Borah spoke at the meeting after Smith missed a plane en route. In the speech, he attacked persons who "accuse me of singing the same old song — foreign policy, monopoly and monetary principles."

"Sure," he yelled. "I'm singing the same song and I'm going right on singing it whether the parties believe these are the fundamental issues or not."

To Fight Monopolies

In the interview, Borah said, "they (the Republicans) say I pay too much attention to foreign relations. National parties would do well to do the same. I know the situation. Monopolies are going to be overpowered. If God gives me life I want to be there when they are."

"The fight is just beginning and the downfall of monopoly is coming. What we need now is for congress to carry Republican and Democratic pledges against monopoly into action."

Later he turned to the question of war as related to the campaign, saying:

"President Roosevelt says he hates war, but, no doubt the Republican and Union presidential candidates also hate war. Whether we have war depends on propaganda and the people."

Borah has been a question mark in the Republican party since the national convention which nominated Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas for president. Recently Borah stated he would not make a campaign speech for a presidential candidate. He has refused consistently to hand his endorsement to the candidate of any party. He is a candidate for reelection to the senate.

BUILDING GROWS TO NEW RECORD IN CENTRAL OHIO

COLUMBUS, Oct. 12—Building construction in central and southern Ohio during 1936 is at the highest point in six years. A. L. Guckert, director of the Columbus District of the Federal Housing Administration, said new residential construction has made particularly rapid strides this year due "in large measure to the Federal Housing Administration's insured mortgage system of home financing."

Statistics compiled by the Housing Administration from official records of the cities mentioned show the following pertinent facts: Residential building in the city of Columbus totaled $1,920,000 in the first nine months of 1936, compared with $289,100 during the same period of 1935. The last year in which Columbus had a million dollars' worth of new residential construction was 1931 and that figure, $1,678,700, has already been exceeded in 1936.

Building in all forms in Columbus, including residential, modernization and other new construction, totals $3,574,825 this year, compared with $1,890,580 for the same period last year.

A study of the statistics shows that in the principal cities of this section of Ohio a total of 504 new homes have been projected in 1936 against 168 in the first nine months of last year.

DIET AND HEALTH

Analgesia Successful Ministered in Childbirth

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
A YOUNG WOMAN who had just had her second baby was telling me what an easy experience it was. Under the analgesic which her doctor gave she does not remember anything about when the baby was born.

"And do you know," she added, "it's very curious, but I love my baby very dearly. Don't you think I will be just as good a mother as if I felt every pang and every tear while he was being born?"

She was referring to the paper read before the American Medical association meeting this spring. This paper, one of the silliest ever read before any scientific body, objected to the use of analgesic drugs in childbirth, because, so it was argued, the mother would not love her baby or appreciate how to care for it unless she felt the traditional pangs of childbirth.

And a number of the members present got up and solemnly endorsed this nonsense, also stressing the danger of such drugs. I said at the time that I did not believe that American obstetrical physicians really wanted to go on record as saying that they did not have safe and effective means of obstetrical analgesia. I am encouraged in that attitude by the letter written in reply to the original discussion by a member of the staff of a well known Boston hospital in a national magazine on June 15, 1936:

"At the Boston Lying-in hospital it may be added, analgesic drugs are routinely and successfully used to alleviate the pain of childbirth without harmful effect on mother or babies."

That part of the discussion which refers to the wrong done the mother by refusing her the pains of parturition is an old one, and was answered effectively once and for all by Dr. James Y. Simpson, who first introduced a method of easing these pains.

When he announced his discovery of chloroform he received a letter from a highly esteemed teacher in Dublin which said, "I do not believe that anyone in Dublin has as yet used it in midwifery: the feeling is very strong against its use in ordinary cases and merely to avert the ordinary pain which the Almighty has seen fit—and most wisely, we cannot doubt—to allot to natural labor: and in this feeling I heartily and entirely concur."

Dr. Simpson replied that he might as well have said:

"I do not believe that anyone in Dublin has yet used a carriage in locomotion: the feeling here is very strong against its use in ordinary progression, and merely to avert the ordinary amount of fatigue which the Almighty has seen fit—and most wisely, we cannot doubt—to allot to natural walking: and in this feeling I heartily and entirely concur."

Of course, the drug which Dr. Simpson used, chloroform, is not ideal, although it is still widely used. Nor is the method of twilight sleep, which was so widely touted thirty years ago, safe enough. But other and safe and efficient methods have been introduced, and I am sure the majority of the medical profession could say the same thing as the doctor at the Boston hospital.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

A FORTUNATE ERROR

SOMETIMES what normally would be a bad bid or play turns out well. West made one improper bid that proved to work so well that defenders were disgusted with the fortunate error. That's part of the luck of the game.

Bidding went: West, 1-Spade; East, 2-Clubs; West, 2-Hearts; East, 2-No Trumps; West, 3-Hearts, when he should have bid 3-Spades; East, 4-Hearts, believing that partner held a powerful two-suiter, with equal lengths in the two major suits.

To protect his spade winners, North's opening lead was the 9 of hearts. West's Q won. The J of diamonds was covered with North's Q. Dummy's K won. South covered dummy's 6 of spades with the J. The Q lost to North's Ace. The 7, 8, 10 and K of hearts went on the return lead.

The K of spades won the fifth trick. A low spade was ruffed with dummy's 5 and South's 6 of hearts, giving defenders their second trick. South returned his 10 of diamonds. Dummy's Ace won.

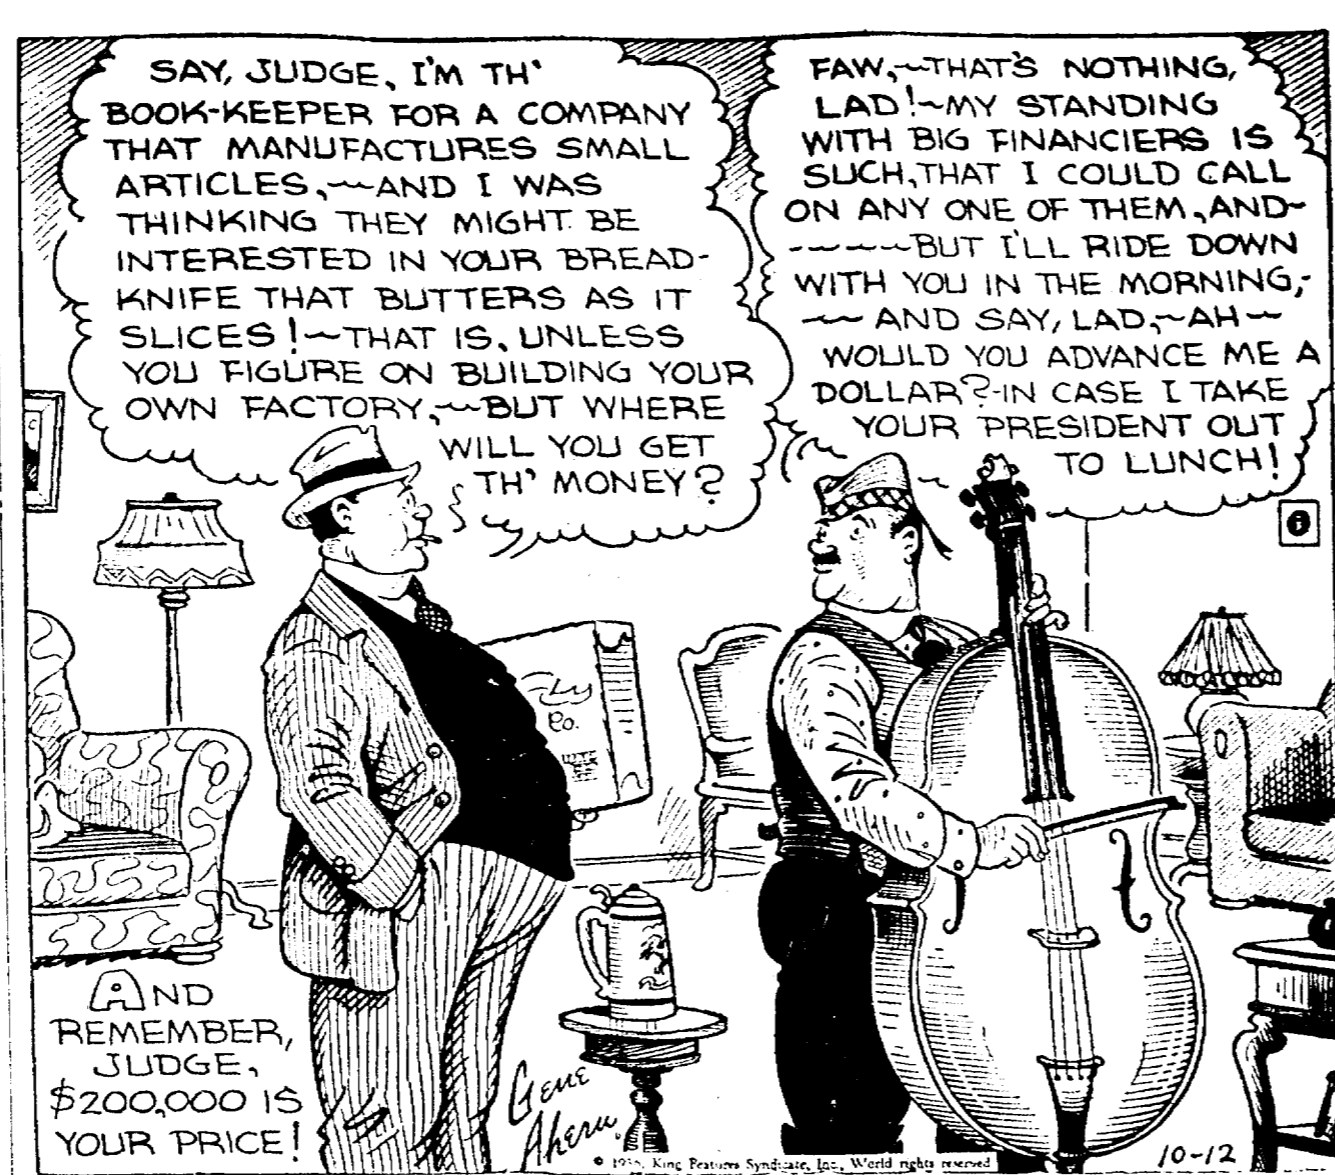

East plays 7-Spades. The opening lead is the K of diamonds. He is to make a grand slam against the best subsequent defense. Before Monday see how this may be accomplished.
